AutoStarter is a very fast and easy to use program that will automatically take care of starting applications, removing items from the Start Menu and other Windows features.

AutoStarter is very fast and doesn't require any installation. Just search for it in Google and download it.

Installation is simple, as it just includes an executable file with its original executable hidden in the zip file. After installation, AutoStarter adds a small item to your taskbar and it runs from there. Just drag the shortcut to your desktop, and you're done. AutoStarter is very easy to use, because it is very intuitive.

AutoStarter can manage most applications, including Windows Explorer, file associations, Favorites, directories, shortcuts, passwords, items in the Start Menu and in the quick-access menu, as well as running applications at startup.

AutoStarter can also control the following Windows features: - run scripts when Windows start (even while Windows is running), - automatically run applications when Windows starts (even while Windows is running), - show/hide desktop on boot (alternative to the option "Show desktop when the system starts"), - hide the Run, Search and Desktop shortcuts in the Start Menu, - hide the "Programs" menu item in the Start Menu, - show/hide the Quick access menu, - hide the Lock screen, and - automatically log you off when the laptop/desktop is locked (for demo purposes, remember to lock your computer when the OS boots in order to run AutoStarter). AutoStarter can even hide the Taskbar, since it requires Windows 7 or later. You can give the AutoStarter shortcut a look by clicking its icon, or by double-clicking it on your desktop. This will open the AutoStarter app. Just go through the app's interface, select the one you want to run, and then

What's New In AutoStarter?

It's a lightweight utility that lets you automatically start and quit programs for you, much like Task Scheduler does, but it's simpler, better, and faster. When you install it, the program sets up a file containing the batch commands you want executed when you click on the start button. These batch commands can be a single command or multiple commands. To make things more convenient, you can save the list of commands in a text file and double-click it to start the same commands. When you click the quit button, the system terminates all currently running batch commands. As far as AutoStarter is concerned, you can start and quit programs with a single click using the included (trial-only) AutoStarter Lite program. To do this, you simply drag AutoStarter Lite from your desktop to your taskbar and start a batch command by simply pressing the right mouse button.

Advantages You can have up to 100 different batch commands. There's no limit to how many batch commands you can have. AutoStarter can quit programs at a scheduled time of day. This is a very lightweight program, there's nothing to download, nothing to register and no setup to do. AutoStarter doesn't give you any disk space. You can add batch commands for different applications and save the settings in a text file for easy retrieval.

AutoStarter can be used to create many batch commands by simply dragging individual programs into the program. To end with Finally, you can say that AutoStarter is a program that helps you organize your PC, by managing programs and batch commands for you. By saving the commands in a text file, you get the opportunity to write a single command that will operate on many files. By giving you the possibility to increase your batch commands count by adding more programs, you can organize your PC in a better way.
